Move to Run Politics Here

CHICAGO, July 18.—German-Americans of six states, represented by forty delegates, this evening concluded a three-day convention here, by casting off former political affiliations and endorsing for United States Senator, in six states, the candidates endorsed by the Third German-American national conference.

George Sylvester Viereck of New York, much in the spotlight during the world war, was chairman of the convention. He was endorsed as proper candidate for the United States Senate.

Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana; Lynn J. Frazier, of North Dakota; Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa; Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin; Joseph W. France, of Maryland; James A. Reed, of Missouri. The resolutions demand that the United States use its best efforts to secure an immediate revision of the treaty of Versailles and St. Germain, "forced upon our opponents in the war by flagrant violations of the promises of Woodrow Wilson, then president of the United States."

Warm approval is given the campaign to "remove the taint of foreign propaganda from our public school books."

Unequivocal condemnation is made to proposals for Americanization of the stock, which the United States bill collector for the uncollectible and fraudulent loans of the allies, based upon the "Versailles treaty."

ASSASSINS TO HANG

Executed Twenty-six Days After Killing Why Britain Has Few Homicides

CHICAGO, July 18.—The execution of the assassin of Field Marshal Sir Henry Duns was held in front of his home on Eaton Place last night.

The assassin was executed after trial in the Old Bailey.

When the assassin was executed, Mr. Jones announced that the assassin's refusal to permit Duns's statement to be read, they no longer wished to have legal representation. Therefore, Mr. Jones stated that he had no alternative but to withdraw from the case.

The jury was out three minutes. Asked if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be pronounced, O'Sullivan roared and said in a husky voice:

"All I have done, my Lord, I have done for Ireland and for Ireland I am proud to die."

The judge then passed sentence of death on Duns. When he ended with the words "and may the Lord have mercy on your soul," Duns said quietly, "He will, my Lord."

The judge then sentenced O'Sullivan, who at the conclusion cried: "You may kill my body, my Lord, but my spirit you will never kill."

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Some progress toward removal of obstacles to American recognition of Mexico was said to have been made today at a lengthy conference at the White House between President Harding and Mexican Minister, Dr. De la Huerta.

Dr. De la Huerta, who has been in the United States since his flight from Mexico, was received by the President in a "Mexican citizen's" capacity.

Senator Burton, Republican, New Mexico, was also present at the White House conference and later Mr. De la Huerta and General Ryan called at the State Department and were received by Secretary Hughes. All the discussions, however, it was emphasized, were unofficial as would be held with any Mexican citizen occupying a responsible position.

The Mexican Minister came here from New York, where he has been negotiating with bankers for refunding Mexican loans.

Mr. De la Huerta, it was said, gave the President information on present Mexican policies and their light on the diplomatic difficulties which have contributed to the deadlock in the program for recognition of Mexico by the United States.

The President, it was said, was interested in this statement concerning the political and economic situation in Mexico.

The question of recognition, it was said, did not enter directly into the conversation at the White House, although it was indicated that the discussion of Mexican conditions had an indirect bearing, because of their informative character, on the recognition question. In conversation today with other officials Mr. De la Huerta was understood to have received

On entering he switched on the light and found his wife and a man, rumored to be an Englishman, there.

The husband attacked the man, who fought back. During the battle the pair fell on the floor and rolled outside the room, where

HARDING IN FIGHT TO FINISH; WANTS COAL IMMEDIATELY

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Harding has determined that every particle of support of the Federal government shall be devoted to protecting the mines and those who man them to produce coal in quantity to fill the needs of the nation.

In a letter issued to the governors of all the fuel-producing States tonight he made it clear—definitely clear—that the issue is now one of government shall dominate or whether organized labor shall, by threats and terror, deny the people of the United States the necessities of life. It is a finish fight now to demonstrate once and for all that the forces of government are superior to organized agencies which seek to hold up the people until their selfish demands are met in full.

Washington believes that this proposal of the President may be succeeded by government operation and control of all the mines in order to secure enough coal, but the administration leaders believe that a large percentage of production will result from the action of the President and that it will end for all time to come the recurring attempts of those who produce life necessities to drive a bargain in desperation. President Harding's Cabinet is a solid unit back of his plan and all of the necessary preliminary steps have been taken to give the governors of the States all the support that is needed.

WANTS COAL AT ONCE

First of all, the President insists that coal be produced in such quantities in sufficient quantities to prevent suffering and to continue in operation industry and transportation. In his letter to the governors he explained carefully how he had tried to bring about a voluntary agreement to leave the whole matter to arbitration and in the meantime to resume 100 per cent production on the old basis in effect when the strike began. He regretted that the operators were willing to accept the plan, but that the organized miners refused.

The miners apparently inspired by the bloody success of their massacre at Herrin, have felt that they were stronger than the government and have insisted on their terms or continued tie-up of all mining. The administration is equally determined to share all labor and all classes of society that the government is superior to the will of any organization and that common good is more important than the selfish demand of any body of men or any concentration of property. Practically all of the operators are co-operating with the President and many of the mines will resume operations at once, including those of the Illinois operators at Herrin and other near-by points.

SHOW DOWN WELCOMED

President Harding has carefully made his record on this effect to avoid conflict and now that all his efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement by means of a commission have failed he is prepared to maintain order and promote production to the last facility of the government. Many of the men who are advising him are in a way relieved that the show-down has to come and labor taught a lesson of a primary character. Senator

NEBRASKA PRIMARY CLOSE

Election Develops Neck-and-Neck Races Between Gubernatorial Candidates

OMAHA, July 18.—Two neck-and-neck races had developed in Nebraska's State-wide primary election on the basis of returns at 11 o'clock tonight. In the Republican gubernatorial contest, Charles H. Randall of Handolph was leading Adam McKelven of Beatrice by a vote of 3284 to 3273 with ninety-two of the State's 1913 precincts heard from.

In the Democratic race for Governor ninety-five precincts showed J. N. Norton of Polk, 1493; Charles W. Bryan of Lincoln, brother of W. J. Bryan, 1433; Dan B. Butler of Omaha, 1319.

R. B. Howell of Omaha was maintaining his lead over Congressman A. W. Jeffries of Omaha with 204 of the State's 1913 precincts heard from. The vote stood: Howell, 5763; Jeffries, 2843; Davis, 3750; Gustafson, 1071, and the other two candidates far in the rear.

Senator G. H. Hitchcock was far in the lead with ninety-seven precincts reported. He was more than three to one in advance of J. O. Shroyer of Humboldt. The latter, according to F. A. High, secretary of the State Anti-Saloon League, was "drafted" by dry Democrats to make the race, although Senator Hitchcock stated that he considered the prohibition issue was a settled matter, adding that, while he at one time opposed it, he had since voted for its enforcement. Anthony Mancuso of Omaha was running third with a total of 520.

Mr. Howell, who announced that he favored the farm bloc in Congress and a government merchant marine, but that he was opposed to the proposed ship subsidy bill, Congressmen as later reports were received. At 11:45 tonight, with 204 of the State's 1913 precincts reported to the Associated Press, Mr. Howell, an advocate of public utilities, had a vote of 5763 compared with 3242 for Jeffries.

Mr. Jeffries, rated as a conservative member of his party, told the voters in his advertisements that he was a "true, consistent, earnest Republican," and referred, at times to favorable comment given him for his work in Congress by Congressman Mondell, the Republican floor leader.

Of the 304 precincts reported in this race, forty-five of the State's ninety-three counties were represented, one-fifth of the vote coming from Douglas county, Omaha, where observers believed that Mr. Jeffries would poll a heavy vote.

FEDERAL JUDGE
RAPS GOVERNORMichigan Court Grants Plea
for InjunctionMarshall's Testimony is Cause of CriticismGroesbeck Denies Statement of Official(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
DETROIT (Mich.) July 18.—Gov. Groesbeck and Roy C. Vandereck, Commissioner of Public Safety, were vigorously assailed today by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle in the United States Circuit Court in granting a temporary injunction against the railroad strikers in the Saginaw district.

The injunction was asked by Pere Marquette Railroad officials. The order prohibits anyone from trespassing on the railroad's property, interfering with the United States mails or interstate commerce.

Judge Tuttle's arraignment of the Governor and Col. Vandereck was in open court and followed the testimony of Frank Newton, United States Marshal, that the Governor refused to take a hand in the Saginaw railroad strike difficulties as he had requested, and Col. Vandereck's announcement that if the government sent in fifty special deputy marshals, it was proposed to do, he would withdraw the ten State constabulary troops he had sent to Saginaw to preserve order.

"It is a shame," the court said, "that a man as big as Gov. Groesbeck will almost sit idly by and watch laws that were made to be obeyed and his property damaged."

"It is almost as great a shame that the great State of Michigan fails to extend protection to its citizens at a time when they need it the most," he said.

Marshall Newton testified Gov. Groesbeck had said to him when he asked that the State take a hand in curbing the strike activities: "Your office makes you big enough to handle the affair without assistance from the State. We won't bother with it."

DENIAL BY GOVERNOR
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LANSING (Mich.) July 18.—Emphatic denial that he had told Frank Newton, United States Marshal, he would withdraw State troops from Saginaw if special marshals were sent there to handle the strike situation, was made by Gov. Groesbeck this evening.

The Governor said that a week ago he had asked U. S. Marshal Newton for information regarding the Saginaw situation, before any riots had occurred, but he had heard nothing since.

Later the Sheriff of Saginaw county had charge of the situation and had sent State troops there to maintain order.

RATHENAU ASSASSINS DIE

Slayers Kill Themselves as Police Mass for Assault on Ruined Castle RefugeBY GEORGE KILDES
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

BERLIN, July 18.—High on the one remaining tower of Castle Saaleck, two young men watched the gathering of police forces from all over Germany. As the roads near by became filled with police, couriers and messengers, one youth shouted, "We die for our ideal," and the other, "Long live Capt. Ehrhardt."

Then both disappeared and as the police approached two revolvers shot each through the ruins of the ancient castle.

In this manner was exploited one of the most brutal political assassinations in German history, for the youth were Hermann Fischer and Erwin Kern, two former Monarchist officers, who with hand grenades, machine guns and pistols killed Foreign Minister Rathenau.

Aided by thousands of persons, their safety was guaranteed by Monarchist clubs, and their names honored at Monarchist bathing resorts. Fischer and Kern, the police chase for almost a month until they openly said they would never be captured. The police raised the reward for their capture to 2,000,000 marks. Republican newspapers increased this to 5,000,000 marks and numerous Republican organizations aided in the search while Monarchist organizations gave money to the assassins.

Fischer and Kern went to the ruined castle in which living quarters had been established by a Monarchist writer, Dr. Stein. A light at night betrayed them. The Monarchist newspapers say they died heroically.

Dr. Stein was arrested.

The railroads are standing firm on their ultimatum to the strikers that unless they return to work by certain dates, all of which have now expired, they must start in again as new employees. They insist that the strikers who are supported in their stand by proclamations issued by the Labor Board.

DEMAND RIGHTS RESTORED
On the other hand, President E. M. Jewell and his striking men have asserted that any settlement must be predicated on a full restoration of seniority right to the returning strikers. This, the roads contend, means that when the capacity of a shop is reached, the men who replaced the strikers and helped the roads through an emergency, lose their jobs while the strikers stay.

One railroad president, commenting on the proposition, said it was a matter for the labor board to settle, and not for the railroads, since the labor board had asserted that strikers failing to return to work would lose such privileges.

Georgia National Guard companies were sent to Waycross today because of strike disorders, and North Carolina troops were held in readiness for an emergency. Fresh troops were mobilized in Illinois to replace those on duty at Bloomington and Clinton.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad and the Chicago and Northwestern today were ordered to discontinue any further picketing and picketing by the unions now on strike. Temporary injunctions were issued by the federal court at Detroit, the Baltimore and Ohio and the Louisville and Nashville at East St. Louis, and the Washburn road at St. Louis.

Clerks on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad have notified railroad officials that they intend to strike at once, according to messages from the railroad, received by labor board members today.

The clerks, according to the messages, are striking against the wage cut decision of the labor board last July 1, and also the cut effective July 1, 1931. Railroad officials maintained the clerks signed an agreement to abide by the board's decision.

ORDERS COAL

Willis and others openly charge that the mine troubles are inherited from the Wilson administration, when organized labor had the veto power on every move of the Federal government and that the time has come for a definite understanding that organized government is more powerful than organized labor.

From the record as built up day by day by the President and his advisers it can be shown that every consideration for the rights of both sides were observed in the proposals of the Federal government and that drastic action came only when the leaders of the organized mine workers refused to accept any proposal except one that granted their demands.

TROOPS ASSEMBLED
Blank orders have been signed by President Harding and are now in the hands of the Adjutant General, who is sending them to the various Federal troops wherever needed at the direction of Secretary of War, Mr. Duggan. There is no delay or hesitation in supporting every State administration when their forces are inadequate to handle the situation.

Estimates of the amount to be produced under this plan form a very small percentage, 10 to 15 per cent, of the total production of the mines heretofore operated as union mines. Lewis, representing the mine workers, claims that the Federal government is not to work in the mines no matter what protection is granted by State or Federal government.

The Federal government estimates that as high as 60 per cent of the former production can be developed in the mines now somewhere between these two statements. One thing is certain, President Harding is not a man who is willing to let there be any way possible in human endeavor.

This attitude in the production of coal has been a source of concern to leaders in public life here, and a psychological effect on the railroad situation as to insure the continuance of the Federal government's policy of non-interference with freight trains loaded with commodities.

Landru's Own Records of His "Business"

In his famous "black book" which played so prominent a part in the trial and conviction of the whole murderer of women, Landru entered every penny which each "venture" cost him and its return. The pages of the book shown are devoted to the expenses involved in the preliminary entertainment of two of his victims. These are usually designated by the name of the street or city where they lived, so that no real names should appear in the grisly record.

ENTER NEW VICTIMS

Undismayed by Suspicion of Police, Landru Lays His Traps for More Women

BY WILLIAM LEE QUACK

In his previous article "Mr. Le Quack detailed the criminal beginnings of Landru and how he got into the grim business of evading women and then creating them to hide his crimes. The police were already suspicious, but Landru's cool explanations for everything threw them off the track and the master was calmly about his preparations to bring more women into his love snare."

Landru was in every way a man after some coffee, sat down and wrote a letter to the brigadier of police at Mantes—called by the French "Le Jefe" why, nobody knows—in which he referred to the visit of the police agent at Vernouillet, and expressed regret that he had been compelled to leave Paris unexpectedly on business, and must be absent a week or more.

"I made an appointment with the agent who called upon me to see my wife and question her regarding the absurd complaints that my chimney smoked the other night," he wrote. "This appointment must, I fear, be postponed, as my wife and her son have been called to London upon a pressing family affair and will be away quite a fortnight. As soon as they return I will inform you. Meanwhile I have thought it best to explain this as you might possibly wonder at my absence from Vernouillet."

Having posted this he went to bed for an hour, spent the day wandering about the busy city, and that same evening took the train back to Paris.

Now, curiously enough, Landru, in that well-thumbed pocketbook—the career afterward produced at his trial—put down the expenses of that flying visit to Lyons against the word "Brest"—his pet name for Mme. Labord-Laine. His mind was nothing if not purely commercial, and most methodical. He kept his accounts like a banker, and he valued a woman's heart just as a butcher would value a piece of meat. He would be his pride and he would be his pride. He was intensely charming. He was full of well-turned, brilliant phrases, sweet, passionate and breathing a pure and honest affection.

A NEW VICTIM

During the last days of Mme. Couche's life, Landru had, through one of his matrimonial advertisements, got into touch with a young, good-looking woman named Gabrielle Nadaud. Her husband, a lieutenant of Chasseurs, had been killed at the front, leaving her in rather straitened circumstances, with a large apartment in the Avenue De Villiers, which contained furniture worth several thousand francs.

On the second occasion they had met, Landru made pretenses of violent love, and as they sat together—she having invited him to call—he caressed her, at the same time scheming with his devil's cunning how to possess himself of her property.

The young woman told him frankly of her position, whereupon he asked her to marry him, and she, after a little reflection, assented. He was, of course, innocent, regarded it as a romance of love at first sight.

"You should realize on your furniture," Landru suggested later that evening. "I sold my sister's furniture in the devastated area for four times its worth a month ago," he told her. "It would bring you in ready money. If you like to leave it in my hands, my dear Gabrielle, I will effect the sale for you without any delay."

The woman hesitated. She was loth to part with her home, yet she was badly in need of money. Landru had already examined the household effects with critical eye.

"I could certainly get you 10,000 francs, because I know how to go about it," he went on. "You would of course, have to make over the furniture to me—so that I could dispose of it and give a receipt for the money. That is, of course, and he smiled as he fixed her with those peculiar magnetic eyes of his—"if you can trust me?"

With his arm around her, he pressed her closely to him, and kissed her fondly upon the lips.

"I thank you very much, Monsieur Lucien," responded the victim. "I, of course, trust you."

The man who had attained such a degree of criminality never lost much time in preliminaries. He called upon her punctually at noon next day, whereupon poor Mme. Nadaud—who, by the way, did not figure in the list of victims at the Vernouillet trial—was the man of mystery have only just been discovered—handed over to him all her furniture, being understood that it should remain

Holland
"the country that financed our republic during 1782 to 1789"

WE are glad to recommend the bonds of this progressive and financially sound nation to conservative investors. HOLLAND is today on a gold standard basis. Her money is selling at a 5% premium in London.

HOLLAND is the nation that saved our young republic financially during that perilous and uncertain period from 1782 to 1789. However, neither reciprocity, philanthropy nor motives of goodwill need be considered—the bonds of the Kingdom of the Netherlands are very desirable when considered from every safe, sound, conservative investment angle.

The offering of 150,000,000 guilders may be purchased at $960. per bond to yield 6.10% to maturity, or 6.20% if called in 1932.

LENROOT FLAYS
COLLEAGUES"Blindly Following" Finance
Committee, He AssertsCharges Threat to Slap
Farm Schedule RatesLoses Fight to Cut Duty on Cotton Underwear

(BY A. P. MERRY WEBB)
WASHINGTON, July 18. — A charge by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, that threats to slash rates in the agricultural schedule had been used in an effort to keep Republican Senators in line on rates in the cotton schedule of the pending tariff bill, electrified Senate debate today on that measure. Senator Lenroot took to task some of his colleagues for what he termed "blindly following" the Finance Committee majority on rates in the bill, urging that they form "independent judgment."

Senator Lenroot, who has been leading Republican opposition to many of the rates in the cotton schedule, had just lost the fight to cut the committee duty on built cotton underwear from 50 per cent ad valorem to 40 per cent ad valorem. The vote was 18 to 22, with seven Republicans—Bridges, Idaho; Capper, Kansas; Jones, Washington; Kallgren, Minnesota; Lenroot, Wisconsin; South Dakota; and Willis, Ohio—voting for the lower rate.

After his charge about the threats, Senator Lenroot offered a second amendment to make the rate 40 per cent and that was approved, 18 to 22, with eleven Republicans supporting it. The four Republican votes gained on this roll call were cast by Senators Ladd, North Dakota; Nelson, Minnesota; Norbeck, South Dakota; and Hawken, Iowa.

This was the only case in which the committee was overruled today, but on all items except handkerchiefs and mufflers, substantial reductions in the original rates were proposed by the committee majority. The duty on underwear also was a revision of the original recommendation, but Senator Lenroot urged that the proposed increase of 20 per cent over the present rate was unjustified as the duty now in force practically was prohibitive.

"Last week," said Senator Lenroot, "there was a very considerable break on this (the Republican) side in the beginning of the consideration of the cotton schedule and the committee was defeated in a number of instances. Immediately word went around the Republican side of this chamber that there would be retaliation if that were continued, that if these cotton rates were to be disturbed and if the committee were not blindly followed with reference to them, the agricultural schedule would suffer when this bill comes into the Senate."

POLICEMAN
GETS LESS
WHEN HURTLong Beach Cuts Salary of Officer Who Was Injured
in Line of Duty

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LONG BEACH, July 18. — "The law, as it stands, puts a premium on running away from danger," declared Councilman Fillmore Condit today when the plight of Policeman B. J. Delaney was brought to the Council's attention.

Delaney was seriously wounded last summer while trying to arrest a burglar. Since that time he has been paid "85 per cent of 95 per cent" of his salary — the amount prescribed by law for officers disabled in line of duty. A protest against such lack of consideration was made today by Attorney John H. Burke.

Immediately Councilman Condit was on his feet.

"If I was appointed to the police force and was given to understand that I should receive less money through stopping a crook and getting injured than if I ran away from danger," he cried, "I think I would run away."

It was said, following the meeting, that a pension system for policemen and other city employees will be worked out to care for such cases.

SACRAMENTO SUES TO REDUCE LIGHT RATEDOLLARS LIGHTING FIRM'S PRESENT CHARGE IS EXCESSIVE

(BY A. P. MERRY WEBB)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. — The city of Sacramento complained to the Railroad Commission today against the rates charged by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for street lighting at the capital, claiming that they are far in excess of those assessed to San Jose. The municipality asks reparation for the alleged excessive rates collected. It recites that it paid during April and May of 1921, $4.08 per month for each arc light and, thereafter, $5.53 up to the present time.

During this period the San Jose charge, the petition states, was $4.80 for equivalent service. It adds that there are no conditions making the cost of service less at San Jose than at Sacramento. The difference for the period involved is given as $13,852.41, which amount the city seeks to recover.

PRISONERS HELP TO

(BY A. P. DAY WEBB)
SAN JOSE, July 18. — Burning along a three-mile front, a forest fire in the Mt. Hamilton vicinity which for a time threatened the Smith Creek Hotel, was under control this morning and this afternoon reported entirely extinguished. A force of twenty prisoners from the County Jail here aided the fire fighters.

PRICES FIRM ON LOCAL EXCHANGE

With the exception of the minor group prices were firm on the Los Angeles stock exchange yesterday, holding steady at unchanged levels. The mines, however, were definitely weaker, due principally to a concentrated selling attack on Oatman United in the late session which sent that stock down to a low of 25 cents and a weak close at 28, a net loss of 4 cents. Telluride, which has been the one bullish feature of the mines recently, also broke and declined 2 1/2 cents to 23. Oil stocks have steadied down after their slump and Union sold throughout the day at 17 1/2, unchanged from Monday's close. Corresponding firmness was shown by the other mines.

Ventura-Tex Enters Santa Fe Springs!

Perhaps never before were conditions so favorable as respects the public making big, quick money in oil.
If you have not personally investigated conditions that exist in nearby fields, you owe it to yourself to do so at once. Money is changing hands in the tens of thousands at SANTA FE SPRINGS with the same indifference you usually exhibit in spending a nickel.

VENTURA-TEX BUYS 5 FULL ACRES AT SANTA FE SPRINGS PAYS BIG CASH BONUS—DRILL IMMEDIATELY

Put on top of Ventura-Tex's holdings in Ventura County and Texas, this makes VENTURA-TEX by long odds the ONE BIG OUTSTANDING PROPOSITION before the public—BAR NONE. Comparisons are impossible.

Ventura-Tex Units Share in All Oil Produced, Minus Only the Royalty Paid the Land Owner

HERE'S HOW TO FIGURE THE RELATIVE VALUE OF UNITS

ON THE SANTA FE SPRINGS LEASE YOU GET YOUR FULL PRO RATA SHARE OF 71% OF THE GROSS amount—not NET amount of all the oil produced. That is to say, VENTURA-TEX pays 29% royalty direct to the owner of the land—the balance, or 71% of the GROSS, you share indirectly in the proportion the number of shares of units you own bears to the total number.

The value of a "unit" in any given proposition is primarily based on the number of barrels of oil (or their equivalent in money) that each unit receives.

And another point: The proper way to figure the capitalization of a given proposition is to add to the amount of capitalization placed on a PART of the oil from any well or group of wells, a proportional amount to cover the WHOLE of the oil produced.

For example, if $100,000 expresses the capital value of half of the oil expected from a single well or single acre, then the full capital of that well or acre would be not $100,000, but $200,000. It is important for you to know how to figure this, for—matters of honesty, integrity, etc., being equal—THE REAL VALUE OF YOUR UNIT DEPENDS EXCLUSIVELY ON WHAT PROPORTION OF THE WHOLE AMOUNT OF OIL DOES IT OWN AND GET. THINK THIS OVER—IT'S WORTH YOUR WHILE.

VENTURA-TEX PROMISES TO DRILL FOUR WELLS ON ITS FIVE ACRES AT SANTA FE SPRINGS

Contracts are being let for this drilling now. You share in all the oil produced by all four wells, less only the 29% which goes as a royalty to the landowner.

WHERE IS THE PROPOSITION TO BEAT IT? WHERE THE PROPOSITION TO EQUAL IT? I AM WAITING TO HEAR?

NEW LOCATION OF VENTURA-TEX Is 939 South Broadway

I could not handle the business of VENTURA-TEX in the present location in the Chapman Building. Consequently, I have taken a two-year lease on the ground floor store at 939 S. Broadway.

GET ACQUAINTED WITH THE VENTURA-TEX ORGANIZATION THERE AT ONCE—IT'S THERE TO MAKE YOU MONEY

VENTURA-TEX is in oil to stay. You are not buying an interest in a small part of the production of just one well when you buy VENTURA-TEX units. You are buying an interest in what is now conceded to be one of the finest-stopping, quickest-selling, hardest-hitting organizations you ever heard of.

and tradition to sustain, and I tell you POSITIVELY, I am in this to make money with the unit holders from oil dividends, not from stock sales. I am a large unit holder in VENTURA-TEX myself and what helps you helps me. That's why on this SANTA FE SPRINGS ground I do not have to hold out a royalty percentage for myself on top of the land royalty in order to make money.

TIME IS MONEY AT SANTA FE SPRINGS

Buy your units now—don't wait. They will go with a rush. Even a limited number of them should make you rich, I believe. Visit SANTA FE SPRINGS yourself—it's only a few miles away—and you won't need me to tell you what SANTA FE SPRINGS is doing when you see it. You have eyes the same as I have.

Come to 939 South Broadway or to 631 C. C. Chapman Building, or wire or mail your subscription at once to either of the above addresses.

Units still 50c each (capitalization having been raised sufficiently to provide for the money necessary to accomplish the Santa Fe Springs development instead of raising the price of the units)—2000 units for $1000—1000 units, $500—500 units, $250—other amounts in proportion.

WOW! KEEP 'EM OFF OF US!

Ever since the Miller-Fensland well, just across forty acres south of us, blew in unexpectedly at 2850 feet, producing 800 barrels of oil per day, from the shallowest depth ever discovered in Stephens County, Texas, we have been the most popular people you ever saw with Texas drillers and operators.

Up to that time we were simply "that wildcat" Peterson bunch," just because we thought that the greatest oil field in Stephens County lay under the Black and Gurney lands southwest of Breckenridge.

And now what do you think?

We have telegrams galore (come in and read 'em) and, yes, we've had telephone calls all the way from Texas, too (and several have sent special representatives,) from Texas drillers who want to immediately begin our other three wells on our rich FORTY ACRES and take most of their pay in OUR Royalties at OUR OWN PRICE.

These shrewd Texas drillers realize that when they are offered a Royalty where they participate in eight-eighths of all the oil—not in seven-sixteenths or in seven-eighths, and where they get paid DIRECT FROM THE PIPE-LINE, without one cent being deducted for expenses, that they have something that is not often offered even to them, and that it is well worth fighting over.

One of our friends and clients asked us why we didn't take these Royalties off the market at once, now that we have something proven, and the answer is:

We want more clients, who will help us put over something else good, when we bring in our first Breckenridge gusher. That's the only reason you have this further opportunity.

So, come a runnin' and send us your check. When we get OUR 3000-barrel well, like the Humble-Ibex well, a short distance to the west of us, the pipe line company will return to our clients all the money they have invested with us in about TWENTY-FIVE DAYS—yes, sir—every cent of it.

And you "JULIAN FANS" whose money is being returned because Julian is over-subscribed, if you play with us, you'll get your money back in about FIFTEEN DAYS, when we bring in OUR 4000-barrel well, and you will have a share in a full FORTY-ACRE Breckenridge lease, with four wells to be drilled.

"BRECKENRIDGE ROYALTIES" can be bought, if you hurry, for $100.00 for an assignment that brings you one barrel out of every 1600 barrels of oil produced. $250.00 buys a pipe-line assignment for one barrel out of 400 barrels, $500.00 buys one out of 200 and $1000.00 buys one out of 100.

YOU GET YOURS DIRECT FROM THE PIPE-LINE COMPANY EVERY FIFTEEN DAYS
GET INFORMATION AT ONCE. Send in your check or call at the office. When we say that you may not have a chance at this one week from today, we are giving you the straight goods.

FORGES NEW LINK AGAINST WOMAN SUSPECT

Tells of Hammer Purchase Woman; Mrs. Phillips Sees Her Sister in Jail

Whose testimony is expected to provide one of the links in the chain of evidence against Mrs. Clara Meadows in the County Jail, as the hammer-murder suspect, told late yesterday by Sheriff Tranger's investigators.

The witness is the clerk in a downtown 5 and 10-cent store who sold a 15-cent hammer last Tuesday afternoon to a woman answering the description of Mrs. Phillips. The witness was found behind a hardware counter in a store near Sixth and Broadway by Deputy Sheriff Frank Dewar and Joseph Nolan after a two-day search.

BUY DUPLICATE HAMMER

A duplicate hammer was purchased by the deputy sheriff for 15 cents at the same counter, from the same clerk who sold the hammer which is asserted to have been used by Mrs. Meadows to crush the skull of Albert Meadows, the pretty first National Bank employee.

The tool is the cheapest, medium weight, carpenter's claw-hammer obtainable, having a spruce handle instead of hickory. For an additional 10 cents, Deputy Sheriff Nolan and Dewar stated yesterday the alayer of Mrs. Meadows could have purchased a hickory-handled hammer which would not have broken regardless of the force behind the blows that killed Mrs. Meadows.

The broken and blood-stained hammer handle, picked up on the scene of the crime within three feet of the dead girl's body, was compared under a microscope with the handle of the duplicate hammer and they were found to be identical.

The broken and blood-stained hammer handle, picked up on the scene of the crime within three feet of the dead girl's body, was compared under a microscope with the handle of the duplicate hammer and they were found to be identical.

During their investigation, Deputy Sheriff Nolan and Dewar also discredited the theory that Peggy Caffery, owner of the girl, was the murderer, had received a "black eye" at some time since the day of the murder.

After questioning numerous persons, including the landlady of the apartment-house where Peggy resided, Deputy Sheriff Dewar announced that he established that Peggy had a black eye fully three days prior to the crime on Montecito Drive. Peggy's explanation of these two developments, Mrs. Phillips played hostess at the County Jail to another visitor yesterday afternoon. She was permitted to see her sister in jail.

Find Duplicate of Weapon Used in Brutal Meadows Killing

CLARA PAL OF MADALYNNE

Women Accused of Murder Form Intimate Friendship in Jail, Says Girl Prisoner

Clara Phillips and Madalynne Obenchain, both charged with murder, have quickly formed an intimate friendship in the women's quarters of the County Jail, according to Miss Eleanor Madison, 18 years of age, who is awaiting trial on a charge of grand larceny.

"Although Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Obenchain spend most of their time together talking and reading to each other everybody already likes Mrs. Phillips," Miss Madison said yesterday. "The two women read the stories of the crime which Mrs. Phillips is charged with having committed, but Mrs. Phillips never comments on the case at all."

"We one has ever talked Mrs. Phillips about the case because we feel confident she will not discuss it. She has met all of the girls who are in the women's quarters and is very agreeable with them all but she and Madalynne spend most of their time together and seem to understand each other better."

Mrs. Phillips smiles most of the time and laughs and talks. She speaks a great deal about her husband and I can tell she surely does love him. However, I think he treated her wrong when he quarreled on her. I wish I might tell him what I thought of him. After meeting Mrs. Phillips and finding out what a sweet woman she is it makes me madder the more I think about her husband telling on her."

When Mrs. Phillips was first brought up into the jail she looked around smiling and said she was sure she would be happy up here because everybody was so jolly and happy.

"After she saw her husband yesterday she came back upstairs and went to her cell and stayed there alone for some time. After awhile she began talking with Mrs. Obenchain."

Examining Potential Death Weapon

VOTE OFFER NEARS END

Only Seven More Days of Extra Reward for Work in "Times" Prize Home Contest

"Opportunity week" in The Times' great $75,000 prize campaign is moving on at a fast clip, and only seven more days remain in which to obtain 75,000 extra votes on $30 clubs of new subscriptions. If reports are to be credited, candidates are bending every energy to see that they receive the greatest benefit possible from this most liberal vote offer.

It is with good reason that candidates look upon this as "opportunity week." The opportunity to get 75,000 extra votes on every $30 club extra at 9 p.m. on Wednesday the 26th inst. Inasmuch as the regular vote are given on each subscription as usual, it does not take long to build up a good vote standing that will be a wonderful help in the direction of the $16,500 house in Wilshire Crest, the $1000 bungalow in West Hollywood Tract; or one of the twenty automobiles which will be given away on September 2.

SUBMARINE BASE MOVED

Secretary Denby Orders Naval Station at Local Harbor to Pull Up Stakes; Rental Demand Cause

Hope of winning the new $5,000,000 submarine base for Los Angeles Harbor received a jolt yesterday when the Secretary of the Navy ordered the removal of the local base to San Diego. The transfer to more southern waters is scheduled to take place next month, but the exact date has not yet been determined. By this abandonment Los Angeles will lose fifty-five officers, 600 men, three tenders, two eagle boats and two squadrons of undersea boats.

The news was received with consternation by municipal authorities and plans were immediately made to have the removal order rescinded.

"Los Angeles should not and must not lose the submarine base," declared Mayor Cryer. "I hope that we can convince the Navy Department of our sincere desire to keep the base here, and can show that it's to the Navy's interest to keep the base at this port."

President Criswell of the City Council announced that telegrams will be sent at once asking the representatives in Congress to attempt a reconciliation.

ACTION OFFENDS

The action of the Board of Harbor Commissioners in leasing Municipal Warehouse No. 1, to the Union Terminal Warehouse Company, was responsible for the Navy's removal order, it is stated. A portion of this building has been occupied by the Submarine Base for storage purposes, the city giving use of it free of expense. Under the new arrangement, however, rental would be charged by the warehouse company.

"During the first week in July," explained Capt. W. S. Miller, commander of the base, "Walter E. (Continued on Third Page)

Return of $21,000 Asked in Deposition

Gave Him Money to Invest, She Asserts

Met Defendants When Plans Crashed in France

When, during the World War, the airplane of W. A. Williams of Los Angeles, an American aviator, fell virtually at the feet of Countess Marguerite de Maistre de Condo, on her father's estate, in Rue de Tournelles, Versailles, France, a romance had its inception. The unexpected meeting of the gallant American and the lovely Countess led to an engagement and subsequently a disillusionment. It developed here yesterday.

The romance is told in a deposition received from Paris yesterday. It was authorized by Presiding Judge Willis, and the Countess told her story to a French notary at Demersy Allier, France, on May 12, last. She declared that at the request of her American fiancé, she lent him a total of $21,000, which he was to invest for her benefit in a second automobile business. Instead, he put the money in a motion-picture concern. He repaid her only $1124, and she fled out in the local courts for the balance of the purported loan.

The Countess said she met Mr. Williams in June, 1918. "He fell and smashed his airplane on my father's grounds and my father brought him home," she stated. "I saw him often, especially at my uncle's and my father's houses, where he and other American officers were heartily welcomed and often spent a few days. We became engaged."

"He asked to invest $5000 for me in a large automobile firm, where I could get good returns and said that would help him to become a sales manager. The offer was to be submitted for approval to my father and myself. The investment was to be in my own name and not in his name."

"He left France in June, 1919, his corps to be demobilized and he to investigate business conditions. He lived in Los Angeles."

"He requested me often and (Continued on Third Page)

Floyd E. Lee, well-to-do contractor, declared in Judge Sumner Field's court yesterday that fortune tellers had induced his wife, Lottie B. Lee, to file suit for divorce. The suit would never have been filed but for them, he said. Mrs. Lee charged mental cruelty in her complaint. The court ordered Mr. Lee not to dispose of $20,000 in community property until the trial of the suit.

RADICALS WIN DOCK MEN

San Pedro Longshoremen Unite Forces With Marine Transport Workers

Severing all connections with the American Federation of Labor, several hundred longshoremen, members of the San Pedro local of the International Longshoremen's Union, have voted to join the Federation of Marine Transport Workers of the Pacific Coast, which is said to be a branch of the I.W.W.

Officials of the local longshoremen's union admitted yesterday that they had severed all connection with the A. F. of L. and that the members had voted to join the marine transport workers. The union's charter has been taken over by the A. F. of L. and a new charter taken out in the other organization.

The break from the A. F. of L. comes as the close of a long fight between the radicals and the conservatives among the dock workers at Los Angeles Harbor, the radicals finally overcoming the former majority, which favored the A. F. of L. affiliation.

The so-called Federation of Marine Transport Workers of the Pacific Coast was organized last week in Seattle, with unions from the following seaports, taking charter: Seattle, Anacortes, Ballard, Bellingham, Rainier, San Pedro, San Diego and Santa Barbara. The longshoremen say the federation has been informed since the convention by the I.W.W. and is connected with the Marine Transport Workers' Union, one of the regular branches of the I.W.W.

Shipping men, however, declare the new organization is not connected with the Marine Transport Workers' Union, but is also affiliated with the radical One Big Union, otherwise known as the O.B.U. The motto of the newly-organized association is given as "one for all and all for one."

The preamble to the new organization attacks the A. F. of L., stating that instead of aiding the longshoremen to improve their moral and material condition, it is continually encroaching on and attempting to destroy the autonomy granted the longshoremen when they became affiliated with the International Longshoremen's Association.

WILSHIRE ACREAGE SOLD

Local Syndicate Pays $2,000,000 for 136 Acres on Boulevard; Plans Finest Subdivision

Following several weeks of negotiations, announcement was made yesterday of the purchase of a tract of approximately 136 acres of land at Wilshire Boulevard and Fairfax avenue from the Sherman Company and Samuel K. Hinds by a syndicate of Los Angeles capitalists.

The amount involved is said to have approximated $2,000,000. The transfer of the title through the Helman Commercial Trust and Savings Bank will be filed with the County Recorder today. Transfer of this property, regarded as one of the finest residential subdivisions in the Wilshire district, is handled by J. Harvey McCarthy, head of the J. Harvey McCarthy Company, N. W. Helman Building.

Simultaneously with the announcement that the transaction had been closed, Mr. McCarthy explained that it was the intention of the new owner of the property to transform it into one of the finest of the city's residential subdivisions. The development of

APPEARS BORED WHEN CHARGED

Mrs. Phillips Will Enter Plea Tomorrow

Indictment Leaves Suspect Unconcerned

Family and Friends Attend Meadows Funeral

Clara Phillips, indicted for the murder of Mrs. Albertine Tremaine Meadows, 39-year-old widow, will enter a plea to Judge Frederick W. Houser's court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, a continuance of the pleading having been granted her attorneys yesterday morning when she was arraigned by Dist. Atty. Woolwine.

When the arraignment was called, Mrs. Phillips stood between her attorneys, Al McDonald and S. W. Thompson, with her husband standing behind her.

Her face was expressionless and impassive. At times she gave a slight shrug of her shoulders, indicating being more or less bored as the indictment with its formal verities was read. Devoid of any trace of fear or emotion, Mrs. Phillips heard Dist. Atty. Woolwine read, "Do you like them, dear?" asked the older sister.

Mrs. Phillips nodded her head slightly. Then they posed for the photographers. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and Miss Weaver, played with the flowers and chatted in an undertone. It was like a first rehearsal of a home talent play.

Mr. Phillips was present because his wife had announced earlier in the day that she would talk to no one until he was permitted to visit her. Her attorneys stated she would not discuss her case with them until her wish was granted. Following the family reunion Mrs. Phillips conferred with her attorneys through the remainder of the afternoon.

AVOID CROWD
Sheriff Truesdell and Deputy Sheriff Nettie Yaw accompanied Mrs. Phillips to the courtroom. Mrs. Phillips spoke amiably to newspaper men and sat unmoved and unconcerned as the formalities of law were gone through.

Following the short session in court, she was hurriedly returned to the County Jail, being taken up a back way because of the large crowd which was congregated in front of the jail entrance.

Long before Mrs. Phillips was brought into Judge Houser's court a tremendous crowd surged around the County Jail, the Courthouse, and the street and lawn between, thinking they might get a view of Mrs. Phillips as she was escorted from the jail across Temple street and through the courthouse grounds to the hall of Records, where Judge Houser's Superior Court is located.

STORE CLERK IS LOCATED

Twenty her sister, Ole Weaver, Mrs. Weaver, sitting in deep mourning, a black wide-brimmed hat and a black silk dress, and carrying a huge bouquet of roses, arrived at Underhill's Mercantile store, accompanied by A. J. Phillips, husband of the murder suspect, and Attorney Thompson, at 11 a.m.

The meeting between the two sisters, the first since the day before the crime, was void of drama. The steps were all set by Jailer Cronin. A trusty, acting as property man, arranged chairs and a table for the battery of newspaper cameras. Mr. Phillips chatted with reporters, and the sister suggested a glass to the nurse before Mrs. Phillips appeared.

Mrs. Phillips was laughing heartily. "How do you feel today, Phil?" he was asked.

"Full of pep," he responded. Mrs. Phillips appeared, her hair neatly arranged, her cheeks rosy, and her lips smiling. She was dressed in a black dress, and her eyes were fixed on the "order" of meeting her sister. Some doubt if she could retain her composure upon meeting the sister sister. Some thought she would "break." She didn't.

Mrs. Phillips simply walked in to the arms of her husband first. He embraced her, planted three resounding kisses on her lips and pulled her on the back.

"How are you?" was his salutation. "All right," his wife responded calmly.

NO TEARS SHED
She then turned to her sister, pulled her, and they embraced.

Undaunted by Her Fight for Life

She Smiles With Sheriff at Court Hearing

Not Daunted by Fight for Life
Clara Phillips and Sheriff Truesdell in Judge Houser's courtroom just before the date for Mrs. Phillips's arraignment on a charge of murder was postponed until tomorrow.

Miss Weaver shed no tears. The same expression that was on her face when she entered the jail did not change.

"I have brought you some flowers," said the sister, mechanically.

Mrs. Phillips took them, smelled them. She said nothing.

"Do you like them, dear?" asked the older sister.

Mrs. Phillips nodded her head slightly. Then they posed for the photographers. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and Miss Weaver, played with the flowers and chatted in an undertone. It was like a first rehearsal of a home talent play.

Her attorneys stated she would not discuss her case with them until her wish was granted. Following the family reunion Mrs. Phillips conferred with her attorneys through the remainder of the afternoon.

EXAMINED FOR SCRATCHES
At the request of the defense attorneys she was examined by Dr. R. L. Byron to determine the nature and seriousness of the many scratches which were found on her in Tucson by police master Sarah Kestrick.

At Tucson, before her departure for Los Angeles, the scratches were revealed during a search ordered by Sheriff Truesdell, and Chief of Police Dallas Ford. These scratches, the District Attorney will contend at Mrs. Phillips's trial, were inflicted by Mrs. Meadows during the death struggle on Montecito Drive.

Gradually certain elements reflecting upon the character of Mrs. Meadows are being eliminated from the investigation by Underhill's Mercantile, investigator for the First National Bank had previously upheld the reputation of Mrs. Meadows in a confidential report to Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Doran, in which it was stated that Mr. Phillips had not purchased extra linen for Mrs. Meadows's car and had not presented her with a wrist watch, that these were purchased by Mrs. Meadows.

LETTER EXPLAINS
Yesterday, an anonymous letter was received by Underhill's Mercantile which eliminates the "Daddy" to whom it had been reported Albertine Meadows telephoned on the morning of the day she was killed.

The letter was as follows: "Dear Sir: I cannot give you my name, but I want you to know the body of Mrs. Albertine Tremaine Meadows, mutilated beyond recognition on Montecito Drive by hammer blows said to have been inflicted by Mrs. Clara Phillips, was laid to rest in Forest Lawn cemetery yesterday morning beneath a blanket of pink roses.

The funeral services, which were private, were held at the John R. Paul undertaking parlors, there for twenty-four hours Mrs. Meadows's body had remained unidentified. Outside the chapel the lawn and the street were packed with curious people, but they were forbidden entrance to the room where the slain girl's father and younger sister mourned alone beside the gray velvet casket.

CHUMS OUTSIDE
Silently grouped outside the chapel, also were several hundreds of Albertine Meadows's friends, boys and girls she had chummed with and had attended parties with, young men and women she had been employed with at the First National Bank, and friends obtained through death.

"Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. I will come to you!"

The soothing voice of Rev. George W. Hills, pastor of the Evangelical Day Adventist Church, softly broke the silence that permeated the little chapel. He had chosen his text from the gospel, according to St. John.

This is the place of broken hopes, blasted possibilities, tears. It is not a place for high sounding eloquence, but for comfort.

FRIENDS ARE FAREWELLERS
Mrs. George W. Hills, contralto, and Mrs. B. L. Maxson, soprano, sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Meet Me There."

Farewellers, all close boy friends of Mrs. Meadows, were John Drayton, Paul Drayton, Benson Crocker, Roy Konkrigt, Frank Remley and Arthur Gredley.

G. Marshall of the First National Bank, where Mrs. Meadows was employed in the currency department, acted as master of ceremonies.

Dry vs. Liquid Measure
"Strange," remarks the Harrisburg Patriot, "but a bushel of rye isn't worth as much as a quart."

SUSPECT'S ONLY TOPIC IS HUSBAND

Jailer Says She Seems to Have No Conception of Charge Against Her

That Clara Phillips, nonchalant and smiling beauty, charged with hammering Mrs. Albertine Tremaine Meadows to death, does not realize the terrible crime which she is accused of committing, is the opinion of Jailer Bob Cronin.

"I have observed her very closely and talked with her and she does not seem to have any conception of what she is charged with having done," Jailer Cronin stated yesterday. "I cannot see any sign of worry or resentment on her face at all. The only thing she is worried about is seeing her husband."

"I went up to see Mrs. Phillips today and she continually asked if her husband was coming. She said he was all she had, and she wanted to see him. Yesterday I watched her as she sat talking with her husband. He was all that seemed to matter. Nothing else bothered her. She felt his hair and face, and was always putting her hands on his shoulders and feeling of him, seeking to think it was almost too good to be true that she was with him again."

However, if the woman is guilty of the crime she is charged with perpetrating, it wouldn't surprise me at all that when the break came she would throw up her hands and become a raving maniac.

"At the proper time the true facts in the case will be presented to a jury chosen from citizens of Los Angeles, and we know there is no reason why they, too, should not be fair."

"Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. I will come to you!"

The soothing voice of Rev. George W. Hills, pastor of the Evangelical Day Adventist Church, softly broke the silence that permeated the little chapel. He had chosen his text from the gospel, according to St. John.

This is the place of broken hopes, blasted possibilities, tears. It is not a place for high sounding eloquence, but for comfort.

FRIENDS ARE FAREWELLERS
Mrs. George W. Hills, contralto, and Mrs. B. L. Maxson, soprano, sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Meet Me There."

Farewellers, all close boy friends of Mrs. Meadows, were John Drayton, Paul Drayton, Benson Crocker, Roy Konkrigt, Frank Remley and Arthur Gredley.

G. Marshall of the First National Bank, where Mrs. Meadows was employed in the currency department, acted as master of ceremonies.

Dry vs. Liquid Measure
"Strange," remarks the Harrisburg Patriot, "but a bushel of rye isn't worth as much as a quart."

Attorneys Say no Change of Venue Sought

A report in an afternoon paper yesterday stating that Attorneys Al McDonald and W. S. Thompson, who are representing Mrs. Clara Phillips, would ask for a change of venue when their case was called on in Judge Frederick W. Houser's Superior Court, was denied late yesterday in a statement issued by the attorneys.

"A statement has appeared in the public press that attorneys for Mrs. Clara Phillips are expected to request a change of venue. There is no foundation for this statement. Criminal cases in the county of Los Angeles are assigned by the court to various departments for trial. We know from experience in trials of important cases now before Judge Houser, to whom this case has been assigned, that the client will receive a just decision, unbiased and unprejudiced."

"We ask no more."

CROWDS WATCH BOTH SUSPECTS

Fill Courtroom at Trial of Madalynne

Mass in Front of Jail to See Mrs. Phillips

Two Attractions Keep the Morbid on Move

The part of the public that follows accidents and crimes, peeping at the injured's wounds here and at the criminal's frowns there, just didn't know which way to look yesterday.

All day it was give and take between the County Jail, where Mrs. Clara Phillips is quarantined, and Judge Houser's court next door, where Mrs. Madalynne Obenshain is undergoing her second trial—the newly accused and the long accused murder suspects.

There were nearly as many people in the court as in front of the jail, and the Obenshain trial had the advantage for she may at least have a fair trial. As fast as the standers tried others took their place until the walk at the jail's gates was blocked with them.

THE TRUCKMAN'S VIEW

There were all kinds and conditions. "Foolish child, foolish child," an old woman, whose frown showed she was just giving up mourning, muttered to her companion, a woman of even age with bloodshot eyes and a dream of yellow.

"I think she did right to protect her baby," said a young woman with a pencil sticking in her hair. And then when her companion didn't seem to approve, she added, "I mean the way she looked at it at the time, don't you see?"

"Some times they were hangin' women," said a truckman who had driven up for a few minutes' gaze at the jail.

All day the gaze of hundreds inspected every inch of the stone of those marble walls, just as if they were of glass.

As court adjourned for noon recess a very respectable looking crowd soaked from the Obenshain trial, quite as if the trial were a theater where a pathe film had been shown.

BLAME OUTLOOK
"She looks worn-out, poor thing," said one.

"Such white skin," another. "How she has suffered," a third. Then another, a man, remarked that the jury system had broken down entirely and that it was safer to murder than to drive recklessly.

Inside, Clara Phillips was busy seeing callers who were lucky enough, they thought, to get behind the heavy curtains and prepared to undergo her trial and at the same time to keep herself as dignified-looking as possible under the circumstances.

Inside, Madalynne Obenshain sat with her head resting on her hand, her eyes half-closed, as somebody read to her much-rehearsed testimony. She really has nothing to look forward to in a second trial. It is all an old story to her. She only knows what Clara Phillips has to look forward to. Murder trials are such trials!

Refuses Answer on Examination of Mrs. Phillips

Clara Phillips was given a physical examination late yesterday by Dr. R. L. Byron on orders from her attorneys, Al McDonald and W. S. Thompson. It is understood the finger nail scratches on Mrs. Phillips's legs and the injured finger were examined.

Dr. Byron refused to say what kind of an examination was given the accused woman except that it was not a mental one.

Would Make the Men Say It
Miss Young: Don't you think the word "obey" should be omitted from the marriage service?

Miss Strongminded: Omitted? Certainly not! It should merely be transferred to the other party to the contract.—(Boston Transcript.)

CAFE FIGHT DETAILS TOLD

Ex-Chorus Girl Says Mrs. Phillips Once Attacked Her While in Restaurant

Pauline Williams, ex-chorus girl, who used to kick behind the footlights with Clara Phillips, charged with the murder of Mrs. Albertine Tremaine Meadows, yesterday told City Detective Longuevan and Herman Clime of fighting with Mrs. Phillips in the Charles restaurant, 223 Mercantile Place, about a year ago. The former showgirl was found by a Times reporter after Sport Croff, manager of the restaurant, had told of a fight which occurred in his place between the two women.

"I don't know why Mrs. Phillips is said to have dragged another chorus girl from an automobile. Several men present pulled Mrs. Phillips away from the girl."

Miss Williams told a Times reporter Monday night that "every one in the chorus liked Mrs. Phillips and thought she was a mighty sweet girl."

Do your customers ever advertise?

If your customers advertise, they are interested in advertising. If they issue a catalog, then they read other people's catalogs.

If your customers mail out broadsides, they will have an interest in your broadside.

This interest is not just a professional interest. Advertisers are interested in advertising because they recognize it as a useful and time-saving piece of selling machinery.

However, if your customers use good-looking printing, it is not good business for you to send poor printed things to them.

As a matter of fact, it is always good policy to make your mail matter advertising as interesting and attractive as possible.

Practically all good printing is produced by good printers, and a good printer is one who knows that the road to Better Printing begins with Better Paper.

Smith, was a prominent physician and a member of the American Medical Association.

I thank God that my dear little boy does not even know me and never will for I know he will never hear any good of me from you. My past life is a nightmare and my future an endless hunt for something I will never find—a cure for my mistakes."

Mrs. Millett, who charged her husband with desertion, was granted a decree.

Councilman Conaway declared that solicitors for pavement materials have been active in circulating petitions to be sent to the Council recommending the types of pavement they have to sell. By these tactics, declared Councilman Conaway, "based on extravagant claims for these materials, property owners will be compelled to pay 50 per cent. more than is necessary for street work."

DOC CRANDALL BRUISES TIGERS

Veteran Heaver Poison for Chesty Bengals

Red Smith Only Vernon Lad
to Notch Twister

Red Killefer Plays in Fine
Form All Day

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS

The baseball calendar opened by Los Angeles trimming Vernon, 6 to 1, in the opening game of the domestic distilled series.

The Angels appeared hungry for runs, whereas the Tigers seemed to crave only trips with soup trimmings. When last seen they were in soup up to their ears, and making a mess of it.

Crandall was in good form, allowing but few hits. Only one of them, a homer by J. Carlisle Smith in the first round, paid dividends.
Patrick's people played snappy ball behind Crandall's pitching, while the support of Gilder and Doyle curled up at critical times.

BOB ON HAND

Bob Connery, scout of New York Yankees, witnessed the combat, and his presence was believed to have given the Tigers a nervous breakdown.

A delegation of high school girls who aspire to be great pitchers visited Wheeler Dell on the grounds after the game and asked him for information. Most of the girls displayed good curves of their own, but Mr. Dell showed them some new wrinkles, and they weren't looking for those. Wheeler is now regarded as one of our wonderful surrounded on all sides
by flappers.

Rollie Zeider, battling Bengal, occupied the coaching line early.
Mr. Zeider wore white muslin pants reaching to the knee, and was the picture of debonaire insouciance as he hiked to his accompanied post. He was smiling and didn't seem to realize the seriousness of what was about to happen.

CHAVES FOOD

A psycho-analysis of Mr. Zeider's features indicates a deep-seated reason for fooder race enthusiasm, calmly set out to prove that blooded horses didn't require his wonderful Chaves food. The bought nine yearlings, some of them at $200 and $300 apiece. One of the horses, called Bearcrow, because of his appearance, won $2000 in stakes before he was sold for $2000. Another, called Sustained, bought for $200, has won $1000 in stakes. The total winnings have through the income of the stable to $7000.

SETS NEW STYLE

Red Baldwin set a new style in catchers by appearing behind the plate with a freshly hatched car-uncle on the back of his neck.
Umpire Casey was compelled to gaze upon this lurid ball every inning and it almost put his eye out. Baldwin will get along all right until a tall foul drops on the back of his neck. An ignorant guy in the grand stand thought that this caruncle was merely a rear view of Red's Adam's apple which he missed, prematurely through being exposed to the sun
while stooping to scoop low ones.
Everything with a core isn't an apple. Anyway, it wouldn't be one of the Adam variety, but a Baldwin apple.

Both sides went at it hammer and tong, when each scored a run, after which they subsided for an inning.

Killefer opened the pastime with a left-field single, and McAuley sacrificed. Killefer took third and McAuley scored. In the second inning, Killefer grounded, Killefer scored when Jiggs grounded to Smith, and Carroll popped to Bawyer.

SMITH HOMES

J. Carlisle Smith gave Crandall a neat reception. Leading off for Vernon in first, J. Carlisle cracked one of Doc's young offerings over the left-field fence for a homer.

AX IS BURIED
BY SANTA CLARA

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—
Approval of a plan to meet its old foe, St. Mary's College of Oakland, in a football game here in November,
has been voted by the athletic committee of the University of Santa Clara. It was announced here today by members of the committee.

The adoption of the plan is the first step toward renewing athletic relations between the two institutions, which were broken off eleven years ago.

The plan will be presented to the faculty of Santa Clara for its consideration and representations will then be made to St.
Mary's. It was said.

CONNERY SAYS HUG
TO RETAIN HIS JOB

Bob Connery, famous scout of the New York Americans, says that as far as he knows there is no possibility of Miller Huggins being discharged as manager of the club. "Guess that Col. Ruppert is so tired of making deals that he just lets these reports run their course," said Connery.

KRAMER IS LARRUPED BY BROWN

Danny Loses Decision at Doyle's in Best Bout Ever Seen at Pavilion

BY ED O'MALLEY

If one could roll a cyclone, tornado and typhoon together and then toss a carload of mites into the mix, the result would be a cyclone of the Kramer-Young Brown
mix-up at Jack Doyle's boxing pavilion last night. Young Brown was awarded the decision after the greatest four-round action throughout the history of the sport.

Doyle started out like an easy winner. Soon after the going sounded he let go with his famous left to the stomach that jarred
Brownie, who fell into a clinch.
They fought hard at close quarters, Brown proving tough in the clinches with his body blows.

In the middle of the round Danny let go his famous left to the jaw for a terrific wellop staggering Brownie and drawing blood from the mouth of the champion.

Left and it looked like the beginning of the end, but just before the going sounded Brownie came through with one of his vicious close-quarters rallies and was pumping it into Danny's bread-basket when Billy Cox pulled the string.

The two fought like tigers all through the second round. In the third Brownie was well coached, entered his attention on his man's dining closet, and my how he did shoot it into Kramer! The round ended in a cyclonic volley of fellows at short range with Brown having all the better of it, the crowd shouting like maniacs. The last round was fast and furious both men landing frequently to the face, but at close quarters Brownie had the advantage and the decision seemed to please. The other boys resulted as follows: Sailor Lavin; Ketchell
and Fowler, draw; Francis Jacobs won over Eddie Dugan in the fourth; Jack Burns licked Pete
McCarthy; Earl Owens beat Herb Ryan, and Teddy Beller hung it on Pete Herman.

THREE RACES ON TAP

"Times" Challenge Trophy Event Lures Many Entries from Among Local Yachtsmen

The briny deep along Los Angeles and Orange county and around Catalina Island should be lashed into a young typhoon next Saturday and Sunday when three different races for ships are held and by three different clubs.

Saturday afternoon the Los Angeles Times challenge trophy will be raced for sailing ships under the auspices of the Los Angeles Yacht Club. The race will be an eighteen-mile affair.

Paul Jeffers, chairman of the regatta committee already has received a number of entries for the Times race. One of the R type sailing ships recently completed for the California Club has been entered. The well-known loop Wasp, which has made her name felt by many a competitive craft will be there with Jeffers in command. The good ship Vite, owned by Brooks Hays is entered.

Hays, however, will be in command of his Mischief II. Pierpont Davis will be skipper aboard the Vite.

A. G. Maddock, owner and captain of the winning Mischief I, no doubt will be in the race. The racing committee will be in charge of Billie Taylor.

RACE AT NIGHT

On Saturday night, the most unusual race ever held in Southern California waters will be run by the Newport Harbor Yacht Club.
George Visebert, chairman of the Newport regatta committee has placed up an elegant trophy for the winner.

The California Yacht Club, the baby organization of the Southern California clubs will hold the third race mentioned above on Sunday.
It promises to be as keen as the several others held this season.

HANDBALLERS IN TITLE CLASH TODAY

Charley Keppen and Joe Pagli-ano will meet the Forest Stanton and Mickey Reed doubles handball team today noon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club for the club championship of Division B. The match was scheduled to have been pulled off several days ago but was postponed because of the small gallery. Art Howard and Earl McDonald have organized rooting clubs for the grueling affair. The former will present the losers with a suitable floral offering at the conclusion of the match.

Each Unit Generously Large

The important reasons why Nash cars stand out under hardest usage is the added size of each unit.

The dimensions of the frame are greater; the shaft is heavier; the bearings larger;
the motor produces more power.
It takes even more time and labor spent in the production to build the car to the high standard.

TROJANS MAY LAND HOUSER

Famous Weight Man Plans to Enter U.S.C.

Bud is Holder of Two Prep
World Records

Would Give Dean Cromwell
a Wonder Squad

Bud Houser will enter the University of Southern California next fall, according to an announcement made last night by Gwyn Wilson, U.S.C. graduate manager, who exhibited letters and a telegram from the famous Omar
High weight man that signified Houser's intention of entering the College of Dentistry at the University of Southern California in September.

The telegram received from Bud
by Coach Elmer Henderson was short and sweet to Trojan ears. It said: "Everything for U.S.C. Bud."

HOLDS TWO RECORDS

Houser holds the intercollegiate twelve-pound shot put and discus records, having tossed the leaden pellet out some fifty-six feet, and heaved the discus 147 feet one and one-half inches. Bud also heaved the sixteen-pound shot out over forty-seven feet, and as a weight man he is a real gaiter.

Houser might have gone to the University of California, had it not been for the fact that a truck carrying three drums of distilled which Bud was driving, exploded.
Bud was on his way up to Sacramento with the load, and was going to stop in at U.C. upon his return, but the distillate was caused to explode by the exhaust, so Bud did not get to visit Berkeley.

Houser gained national fame about a year ago, when he defeated "Duke" Anderson, Jack Housman and "Duke" Anderson already under the wing of Dean
Cromwell, the addition of Houser
would make a quintet of stars
undoubtedly would be able to annex enough points to top the national collegiate title.

QUINTET OF STARS

If Houser enters U.S.C. he will be among the five great Southern California athletes who have undergone "Duke" Anderson's rule. With the demon Omar, weight man in a U.S.C. uniform, the Trojans will have a wonderful chance of winning the national collegiate track championships in 1924. With Olli-ver, Cory, Otto Anderson, Jack Housman and "Duke" Anderson already under the wing of Dean
Cromwell, the addition of Houser
would make a quintet of stars
undoubtedly would be able to annex enough points to top the national collegiate title.

BUMPER TALKS

Show it to Me

If there is a better looking bumper made than the one we handle, I'd like to take a look at it. If there is one made that gives more protection to a car, please tell me where I can see it. We handle STEWART'S. We have them for every make of car from a Lincoln Town Car to a Packard Sedan and all in between. The entire STEWART'S organization puts its guarantee behind our bumpers. Our bumpers are guaranteed to last. If there is any way for you to lose by installing a set of our bumpers, I'd like to know about that, too. It's a lead-pipe cinch that you have a heap to gain by doing so.

Bill

P. Stewart reminds that he handles, besides the new STEWART'S bumpers, all makes of car bumpers. We're willing to give a little of our own to get you to the STEWART'S stand of the bumpers you have.

By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Some new evidence, bearing particularly on the status of James Brewster, vice-president of the Portland club, in the Kenworthy case recently before Judge Landis for a rehearing, has been forwarded to the commission.

The impression seemed to prevail that Brewster, then president of the Seattle club, signed Kenworthy to his first contract as a player with that team. This contract is said to have contained the non-reserve notation. Recently, or since the Landis decision ordering him and Kieffer from baseball, Brewster recalled that it was Charles Mullen, then manager of the St. Pauls, who signed Kenworthy and who made the nonreserve agreement with him. Mullen recently made an admission to this effect, and it has been forwarded to Landis. This document would tend to clear Brewster. Had it been presented sooner, the result might have been to modify the Landis decision somewhat.

Kenworthy, I believe, his first year with Seattle received $175 a month, with a bonus of $150 if he hit .375 or $1000 if he hit .300. The following year he signed for $225 a month, again agreeing on being a free agent if he did not want to continue with Seattle.

Meantime, Kieffer had succeeded Brewster as president. Last season, when Wares failed to come to terms, Kenworthy was made manager.

"Brewster, who was retiring, reminded me that Kenworthy was on a nonreserve basis," said Kieffer. "I made a typewritten note in this effect on a slip of paper and placed it in my desk."

Can't tell by the way an athlete plays tennis which way he will jump in business.

The wild man of the courts may be as conservative in business as the Bank of England, and vice versa.

Recently I was thinking of Alphonse Bell and Simpson Binaugh.
They reminded me of each other because so different. They present a strange anomaly.

Ever see Binaugh play tennis? To me he was the Joe Grimm of the courts. He threw as much energy into the game as Heston did in bucking the line. He was the court's best plunger. He administered dire punishment and asked no quarter for himself. I have seen him cut loose with a smash hard enough to break a nose or tear an eye out of its socket if they landed on those points. That for those who believe tennis as she is played by our best players is pink pastime for pale people.

This fashing warrior of the court one would expect to find in the wheat pit or on the curb and taking plunges up to his ears. But friend did nothing of the kind. He went into the graveyard business. That is, he either owned a cemetery or sold lots in one. Can you conceive of a safer or more conservative business?
Since then, I am told, he has gone into selling other kinds of lots, a general real estate business, as it were. But that, also is safe and conservative.

On the other side of the net we have Alphonse Bell, known in his day as the "almost perfect tennis player."

However, Bell's game was marked by a certain reticence or caution. He was not the lightning calculator of the court, but rather the conservative, even-tempered performer, taking no unnecessary chances and hushhanded his own resources.

Here is a man one would expect would not stir with anything less secure than a government bond. But what did Mr. Bell do. He went out near Santa Fe Springs and bought himself a large parcel of land, adding to it from time to time. Some say he had a hunch there was oil under it. Others that he bought it on the theory that any land in our matchless S. C. is worth $500 an acre.

However, after much effort in convincing a well-known company that oil lurked beneath these holdings. Then followed a period of much drilling and equal anxiety. The drillers were discouraged and he announced that they would pull their tools in two more days and abandon the place, as the story is told to me. Then, with just one more day to go, they splashed into a lake of liquid petroleum that made Mr. Bell a rich man and turned an agricultural matter into one of the State's leading oil fields, making it entirely too valuable for turpise.

What would have been his financial status had those two days elapsed with no oil found? I do not profess to know, but it makes me shudder none the less.

Recently he built and furnished a fine home for a family of poor yet honest relatives. Hope he succeeds in raising at least five dollars to the acre.

The conservative of the courts took a chance that favors of the spirit of '49, and look at him now.

The game of the series today, 9 to 3.

TENNIS BOOMS IN WINDY CITY

Racket Star Enthusiasm Over Chicago's Showing

Junior and Boys' Play Not in East's Class

Court Game Surely on the Upward Swing

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II.
World's Champion Tennis Player, 1920-21

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—The potential power of the Middle West in tennis is so great that it seems to me that a few impressions of my recent trips to Chicago and Indianapolis would not be amiss. The magnificent clubs in Chicago, particularly along the North Shore, are slowly walking to the value of tennis as a club asset. The year many of these splendidly equipped clubs, which up to now have been given over solely to golf, have secured the services of professional tennis coaches and are making a real effort to put tennis on a firm basis. The Chicago Club, where the Illinois State championship was held, has secured Hinchcliff, the Yale coach, while Indian Hill boasts of Bradley, the former New York professional. These two men have already built a good foundation among the youngsters at these clubs.

HOLDS OWN
The Southside Tennis Club, which has always held its own among the leading tennis clubs of America and where the East vs. West championship was so successfully staged last year, adequately takes care of the needs of the South side of the city.

The Chicago Tennis Association, a subsidiary branch of the Western Association itself, always a live organization, has, under the able leadership of J. C. Stewart and his executive committee, greatly increased junior play for both boys and girls in the district. No less than 740 entries were recorded in the recent championship held under the auspices of the Daily News and played in the various districts of the city. This big event was won by George Lott, the most promising young player in Chicago.

The tennis public in Chicago is rapidly waking to the value of the game. Where, some years ago, a gallery of a couple of hundred seemed large, the average daily gallery at the Illinois State at Skokie Club exceeded 400, while the finals brought out more than 1000.

Everybody is talking about this new Continental 12XD motor. Making new records everywhere for speed, silence, pick-up and economy. Perfect balance—no vibration at any speed.

MORRIS KIRKSEY TO COACH PREPS

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE.)
SANTA ROSA, July 13.—

Morris Kirksey, star Stanford University sprinter, able to step the hundred yards in 14.3 seconds, has signed as director of physical education at Santa Rosa High School next year. Kirksey was a member of the 1920 American Olympic team and in several competitions with Charles Faddock, the world's fastest runner, has finished a step behind him.

Blenkiron Big Favorite with Ionia Fandom

The dominion of Ionia where Out-felder Blenkiron was formed out by the Vernon baseball club has become very enthusiastic over his work judging from the following taken from an Ionia paper of recent date:

"Ionia fandom is wild over Out-felder Blenkiron. They insist he is faster on his feet than Ty Cobb and that he is far and away the fastest runner of any man in the game. In addition he is an excellent fielder and hits the ball as hard as any man on the team. Any time a hit to the infield takes more than two hops when Blenkiron is going down to first base there is little chance of heading him off. He looks to be the best promising young player in the league this year. Fans say it is worth the price of admission to see Blenkiron lay down a hunt and beat the throw to first."

DUCKS CONSISTENT; LOSE ANOTHER GAME

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE.)
SAULT LAKE CITY, July 13.—

Sault Lake took the opening game from Portland today 3 to 2. Both clubs apparently were suffering from an excess of baseball, making the game extremely slow. Each side scored four runs in the first inning. It was Portland's fifteenth straight defeat. Score:

CLAIRE WINDSOR LEAD

WILL HAVE NOTABLE ROLE IN NEILAN PICTURE

By Edwin Schallert

Evidently there is to be no shortage of guests for "The Stranger" Banquet, judging by the way Marshall Neilan plunged into the casting of his picture, based on a story by Dean Ryngaert, yesterday.

Six of the principal roles have been assigned, the one of Dorothy Keogh, the heroine being awarded to Claire Windsor, who appeared in Neilan's "Toots First."

It will practically amount to a star role for Miss Windsor, as the story hinges around the leading feminine character's endeavor to protect the interests left to her by her father.

Other principal parts will be played by Rockliffe Fellowes, who is cast for the superintendent; Thomas Holding, Nigel Barrie, Claude Gillingwater and Stuart Holmes. Mr. Holding will portray the anarchistic heavy.

Mr. Fellowes recently appeared in Mr. Neilan's picture, "His Life," and Mr. Gillingwater in "Toots First."

Negotiations are being made with several other actors for important parts, among these with whom Mr. Neilan expects to close shortly being a male star at present featured in his own productions.

Bowl Concert in Gala Affair

The surpassing triumph to date here for Alfred Herta, and the most interesting of the superintendents, Thomas Holding, Nigel Barrie, Claude Gillingwater and Stuart Holmes.

Mr. Holding will portray the anarchistic heavy. Mr. Fellowes recently appeared in Mr. Neilan's picture, "His Life," and Mr. Gillingwater in "Toots First."

Negotiations are being made with several other actors for important parts, among these with whom Mr. Neilan expects to close shortly being a male star at present featured in his own productions.

The belief expressed by many is that these actors will have a considerable interest in the picture.

It is believed that the picture will be a success, and that the director, Mr. Neilan, is a man of great ability.

He is a man of great ability, and his picture is expected to be a success.

JACK ASSURES WEDDING NEAR

To Marry Despite Ziegfeld, He Declares

Marilynn Becomes His Bride on August 1

"Ma" Opines Producer is Too Financial

Flo Ziegfeld or no Flo Ziegfeld, Marilyn Miller, the petite star of "Bally," is coming to Los Angeles and will become the bride of Jack Pickford on or about Tuesday, August 1.

Pickford made this declaration yesterday at the Pickford-Fairbanks studio on Santa Monica Boulevard, where he is completing his latest picture.

"MA" TALKS, TOO
While Young Pickford told of his forthcoming marriage, "Ma" Pickford, resident in a summer costume, sat on the opposite side of the desk and casually glanced over the "silly" of his new film play. Occasionally she interposed a word or two, but she left most of the talking to Jack.

"You can say for me," Jack said, "that we are to be married about August 1. Miss Miller will arrive in Los Angeles between July 31 and 33. We're going on a honeymoon by automobile through the State, visiting Santa Barbara, Del Monte and Lake Tahoe. We'll be gone about two weeks."

Mr. Pickford did not say where the marriage would take place or who would perform it.

ALL BROUGHT UP
Both Jack and "Ma" are considerably wrought up over the statements emanating from Mr. Ziegfeld and his wife, the former Billie Burke.

"The entire matter of Mr. Ziegfeld's charges," said Jack, "is in the hands of my attorney, Mr. O'Brien of New York City, and I don't care to make a statement until I hear from him."

There have been many rumors to the effect that Jack intended to institute suit for slander against Mr. Ziegfeld. It is known that each newspaper clipping quoting either Mr. Ziegfeld or his wife have been turned over to the attorney. If he decides that Jack has been maliciously slandered, suit will be brought and Jack will back him up.

"The whole trouble with Mr. Ziegfeld," interposed "Ma," "is that he is afraid that when Marilyn marries he will lose a valuable asset."

Upon the return from the honeymoon Jack and his bride will reside in Los Angeles for about two weeks. The new Mrs. Pickford will then return to Boston where she will open in "Bally" for a two weeks' engagement. From Boston she will go to Chicago.

During her stay here she will spruce up on some new dance steps under the direction of Theodore Kosloff, the Russian dancer. Arrangements were made yesterday for a ten days' period of instruction.

IGNORES SELLING PLAYERS.
"Have you anything at all to say regarding Mr. Ziegfeld's statements?" Jack was asked just before the interview ended.

Jack, who plays the part of the jockey in "Garrison's Finish," a race-horse picture, replied, "I'm too busy with thoroughbred to bother with 'selling players.'"

For the benefit of the uninitiated in race-horse parlance, it may be added that "selling players" are race horses that are no longer in the top-notch class.

HIGH SCHOOLS RECORD SOARS

Rate of Student Increase Greater Than City

Many Pupils Visit Teachers' Association Convention

Continuation at Berkeley for Northerners

Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, yesterday declared that the past school year had been the greatest that California high schools have ever had. This statement was made before the California High School Teachers' Association convention, which is being held at the Southern Branch of the University of California.

During the past school year 22,466 pupils have attended the high schools of the state. During the same period last year, Mr. Wood said that 197,466 were enrolled in the secondary schools of California. He pointed out that this phenomenal growth is not proportionate with the increase in the population of the state.

TEACHERS COMPLIMENTED
He complimented the members of the Teachers' Association for the work which they have been doing. He said that the reviewing which is done by those attending the convention is exceeding helpful to the teaching.

Mr. Wood presided at the meeting held in the Millspaugh auditorium at the local institution yesterday morning. Edward F. Traft, representative of the Mutual Teachers' Association, also spoke at the meeting. His subject was "What the Business World Has a Right to Expect High Schools to Accomplish."

During yesterday afternoon three round-table meetings took place. In all, ten different topics were considered at these meetings. Prominent educators had charge of the round-table assemblies.

THE COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN
Arthur H. Chamberlain, secretary of the Teachers' Association, declared that the work of the Committee of Fifteen of the association is being watched by educators throughout the entire country. The purpose of his committee are as follows: "To define the purpose and objectives of secondary education, to state the range and character of the instruction to be given and to suggest a group of typical courses of study, to make wide in scope to meet the needs of pupils living in the several parts of the state and under varied social and economic conditions of life."

The report of this committee will be filed for publication before June 15, 1923.

A. C. Olney, Commissioner of Secondary Schools, will preside at the meeting of the association in Millspaugh auditorium this morning.

"What Labor Has a Right to Expect High Schools to Accomplish" will be the subject of Mr. Olney's address. Joseph Lindsey Henderson, professor of secondary education at the University of Texas, will speak following Mr. Olney's address. "The Place and Value of Social Sciences in Attaining the Objectives of Secondary Education" will be Prof. Henderson's subject.

The round-table discussions will be conducted in the afternoon.

STUDENTS IN ATTENDANCE
The meetings of the association are being largely attended by students of the local university, according to the statement of Dr. Baldwin M. Woods, dean of the summer session.

During the last three days of this week the second half of the convention will be conducted at Berkeley for the teachers living in the northern part of California.

FIVE HURT WHEN AUTO HITS TRAIN

Collision on Long Beach Line Near Watts Sends Motorists to Hospital

Five persons received minor injuries late yesterday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a Long Beach train at Albia crossing, a mile below Watts.

The injured were Ascension Martinez, his wife, Mary Martinez, Frank Looson, his wife, Mary Looson, and their 1-year-old daughter Mary.

Ascension, who was driving, was the most seriously injured. They were taken to the Compton Hospital, where it was reported that all would recover.

According to eyewitnesses to the accident, Martinez drove behind a passing north-bound train and was struck by another traveling southward.

Sharpshooters of State Guard Set High Marks

Officers at Fort MacArthur last night announced that the California guardsmen in camp there made surprisingly high marks in their first day of actual target practice yesterday with the 14-inch coast defense rifle.

Today the 12-inch mortar batteries will be fired. Col. R. E. Mitchell announced under conditions similar to those obtaining yesterday in the long range practice. The triangular red target, towed five miles at sea by an army tug was completely demolished by two of the six shots fired yesterday.

The target practice will be brought to a close Friday with the second round of training on the 14-inch rifles. Saturday morning the 600 militiamen are scheduled to break camp preparatory to their departure.

Gov. Stephens will this afternoon review the Coast Artillery Corps of the guard.
